KNOCKED OVERBOARD.—Two colored men, hands on a fishing boat, landed at Eldridge's wharf early this morning for a supply of ice, and while there renewed a quarrel which it appears had been in progress for some time. Words soon led to blows, and before many minutes had elapsed the smaller of the two, and the one who had been trying to avoid a fight, knocked the other heels over head into the dock, where, as the water was very deep, he would have drowned had he not caught a rope, the end of which happened to be floating

SHOOTING AFFAIR AT ORANGE COURT House.-John Hoffman shot and seriously wounded Joseph Layton in Graham & Bro's. bar room, at Orange Court House, yesterday. Hoffman was behind the counter and told Layton not to come where he was, but the latter not heeding the warning, the former picked up a pistol and shot him. The ball entered his neck and passed down towards the abdomen, but its exact course and location are not known: nor is its probable effect.

REPUTATION RETRIEVED.—The yacht General Hancock, which on two previous sails was so unfortunate as to have a collision and to run aground, made another cruise yesterday evening with the same party on board who had ex-perienced the effects of the other accidents, and happily avoided the flats, and as there were no vessels in the river to obstruct the channel, made a successful trip and consequenty partially retrieved her reputation and that her navigator.

The procession and assemblage for any lawful purposes should be protected to the full extent of the law as far as the civil and military power at command would be sufficient. There is no safety for a citizen whether rich or poor, foreign or native born, Protestant or Catholic, or for his wife and children except in the maintenance of the law at all times, and the people, whatever may be the nationality, or religion or sympathies will be sure it is their common interest to sustain the outhorities in preserving order at all hazards. This is not the question of to-day's procession but it is a question which applies to all future ratherings. Men who choose to gather for any purpose, personal, religious, or political, who threaten no interference with the rights of persons or the property of others have the right to do so and they must not be interfered with, and under all circumstances and at all hazards they must, and shall be protected by the civil, and military authority. authorities in their determination to preserve order and vindicate the law. Col. Clark of the seventh regiment says ;-"The 7th had the right of the line, the left wing being in front, Gen. Varion had given orders to station the right wing on the west of 5th avenue, between 25th and 26th streets, while the proeession was passing. Their duty was to watch suspected houses across the way, and in case any shots were fired from any of them to return the fire. The Orangemen had gone by in safety and the left wing of the Seventh was marching by fours on the street, past the Ninth, for the purpose of rejoining the other portion of the regiment. They had passed the second company when sudden-ly Page was killed and the Ninth began an indiscriminate fire without orders. These fell back at the same time and proyded the Seventh upon the sidewalk. The firing was kept up for some time, although Adjutant Fitzgerald dashed up to Lieut. Colonel Braine and begged him for God's sake to hold his men in. The left wing pushed on and when they reached the corner of 27th street some shots were fired at them from the window of a frame house on the southeast corner. Captain Vanoden turned to his men and inquired if any one knew where that came from. Twenty voices replied in the affirmative and the Captain ordered one of his men to return the fire. A single shot was fired into the window from whence the bullet were fired from the same spot. The Captain, at this, ordered a halt and told his soldiers to whose convenience should not be consulted Seventh marched away. This, the Colonel claims, is all the firing done by his regiment all further trouble obviated.

Mullen, Eddie Soper building on the nothwest corner of 29th st. and climbed up the mast to arrange something strations. At half-past ten about 200 persons were congregated about the building, but aside from one or two intemperate harangues from the agitators no demonstration was made and at midnight the mob had dispersed. A body of 300 or 400 rioters evidently intended early last evening to secure the arms in the Fenian armory but retreated on sight of the police guard. The soap factory of Colgate & Co., in York street, Jersey city was threatened with destruction. During the night a force of 30 men were on guard. Two hundred feet of hose were stretched in the building attached to a vat of hot lie. The scenes around Bellevue hospital late last night were heartrending in the extreme. Crowds of tearful women and sobbing children thronged the street in front of the main entrance and as each ambulance arrived and deposited its ghastly burden the wails and lamentations of the suffering ones were piteous. The dead were in an unfit condition to be exposed to the gaze of friends. They lay in pine coffins as picked up in the street with blood stained faces and dust begrimed garments. The sight was sickening. Thirty-two lay side by side in the starlight, in the rear of the morgue.

The Herald says: We cant refrain from congragulating the community that the majesty of law was vindicated and the rights of the people upheld. The Sun says: About 100 men paraded yesterday in the Orange ranks to vindicate the right of citizens to assemble, About one hundred were killed and wounded in putting down the mob who desire to deprive them of that right. The result shows that if the city authorities had never yielded to the mob there would have been no riot at all.

The World says: The Governor's final action s generally applauded; but if that was the proper course to pursue, he is inexcusable for reaching so tardy a decision.

The Times says: Yesterday's procession with all its abnormal features was a noble vindication of the might of popular will and of justice, which lives in the unperverted instincts of a free people; but the procession had its melancholy side too.

The Tribune lays the whole blame for the riot to the Tammany leaders and condemns both Mayor Hall and Governor Hoffman.

they need; and among this class of remedies, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters stands alone. No valid plea can be urged against its use, even by the genius of Temperance itself; for even the Maine law permits the sale of diffusive stimuli for medicinal purposes. As a general renovating preparation, the Bitters have no equal anywhere.

▲ WITH INTEREST: Under date of April 26th, 1871, Dr. HENRY J. ROGERS, 68 Sharp street, Baltimore, an eminent physician, writes regarding

CRYSTAL DISCOVERY:

"It affords me much pleasure to bear testimony as to the efficacy of your Crystal Discovery. Some years since, while in India, I suffered from a severe fever peculiar to the country. On my recovering, a patch of hair on the left side of my head became perfectly white, without at all affecting the remainder. To remove this unsightly appearance, I had recourse to various prepara-tions, both in Europe and in this country; but they all had one great defect—they dyed the hair black. Now, with your Crystal Discovery, I can get the desired shade—the natural color of my hair being dark brown. I consider your Discovery the best preparation I know of. Yours truly, HENRY J. ROGERS.

Now as the fact becomes more patent every day that the various dirty and filthy preparations advertised as Renewers, Restoratives, &c., are but compounds of Sugar of Lead and Sulphur, and therefore should be shunned by all who value their health, it is scarcely a matter of surprise that the demand for NATTANS CRYS TAL DISCOVERY, admitted to be perfectly harmless, and yet accomplish all, and more, than the poisonous articles claim to do, should have increased so rapidly. It restores the color and growth of the hair positively in a few days; strengthens the roots, makes an excellent dressing, soiling neither clothes nor scalp; but on the contrary it gives the scalp a pure and cleanly look, removing all dandruff and scurf. It is the most economical preparation in use. Put up in large bottles, at one dollar.
